Mr. Stevenson:

The reporter at the U.N. (Paul Ward, Baltimore Sun--Protect Source) wonders if the President disclosed the K letter with Adenaur. The news have been known to lack information.

Here is the AP story based on what must have been full disclosure by someone in Washington. Note Hightower is State Dept. reporter.
Tues has a story on Page 2 based on what he can find here--and it bears no resemblance to the Washington output.

K to Pull Out Jets—IF

Call Terms Impossible

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev has sent President Kennedy an offer to pull Russian jet bombers out of Cuba out attached so many "ifs" that a Cuban settlement is not within sight, authoritative sources said early today.

Khrushchev's proposal, it was learned, was received several days ago and is being discussed at negotiations—presumably in New York where U. S. and Soviet representatives have been trying to hammer out an agreement.

Exactly what conditions the Soviet premier attached to his offer were not disclosed.

SLOWS SOLUTION

But there were too many, the sources said, that they cannot foresee a swift solution to the problems that have been keeping a fire to the Cuban crisis.

Authoritative sources said Khrushchev's proposal for withdrawing the planes came in one of several letters he and Kennedy exchanged—none of which has been made public—since their weekend letters of Oct. 27-28 drawing an agreement to end the crisis.

Mr. Kennedy has insisted that the 150-mile range bombers are in the same offensive weapons category as the Soviet missiles and must also be removed.

PRESS RUSSIANS

U. S. officials have reported that 42 of the missiles were counted on Soviet vessels steaming away from Cuba. That the number of missiles the Russians say they had on the island.

Officials here look upon the removal of the missiles (unless some are hidden in caves) as fulfillment of the most important of Khrushchev's promises to Mr. Kennedy.

In addition to the bomber issue, Khrushchev has not carried out his promise to allow UN inspection of the dismantling of weapons and their bases—which Castro has cried he will not permit.

Britain Opens Probe Of Massive Spy Ring

LONDON, Nov. 15 (AP)—A leading expert on Britain's security system today began an investigation of sensational rumors that a government minister planned to flee to Russia with a homosexual spy.

Prime Minister Macmillan in a startling statement to the House of Commons yesterday called for a "trial of truth." He named 63-year-old Lord Radcliffe as the head of a tribunal with sweeping powers to look into the rumors and the state of government security.

WARNING ON SECURITY

The spy alarm was heightened by Charles Ian Orr-Ewing, Civil Lord of the Admiralty, who charged that thousands of Communist secret agents are operating in Britain.

Mr. Macmillan himself warned that hostile intrigue and espionage are being re-

Minister. "What was said spread about was that he was guilty of a perverted or immoral association with Vassall."

A British newspaperman, Mr. Macmillan said, claimed he had been told by the police or security services that Vassall, before his arrest Sept. 12, intended to join Mr. Galbraith in Italy.

The implication, said Mr. Macmillan, was that Mr. Galbraith either intended to defect to Russia or help Vassall do so.

East German Guard Shoots West to West

BERLIN, Nov. 15 (UPI)—A young East German border policeman fought a gun duel today with other Communist policemen to make good his escape to the American sector of West Berlin.

The 19-year-old border guard fled through a small suburban woods unarmed, West Berlin police believed that other Communist police also were not hit.

The refugee and the policeman who tried to block his escape exchanged 34 machine pistol shots at 1:30 a.m., West Berlin police reported.

City to Ask U.S. Help in Dope War

EXCLUSIVE

By JAMES D. HORAN, DOM FRASCA and JOHN MITCHELL

Narcotics-infected New York City will ask the Federal Government next year for a $1,000,000 shot-in-the-arm — research grants, prevention aids and after-care facilities for addicts.

The N. Y. Journal-American learned today that the appeal for U. S. funds is only one proposal in an ambitious anti-narcotics program being drafted by the City Health Dept.

LIST PROJECTS

A departmental report, so confidential it has not yet even been submitted to Mayor Wagner, advocates:

- $600,000 for a "life study" of adolescent drug users.
- $150,000 for a "Halfway House" addict rehabilitation center in Manhattan.
- $150,000 for three new referral and after-care clinics.
- $85,000 for narcotics education and prevention programs.

The report, prepared by the Dept.'s Office of the Narcotics Coordinator recommends that applications for these funds be filed with the National Institute of Mental Health.

URGE HEALTH CAMPS

Sources close to City Hall said the report will be submitted this week to Health Commr. Dr. George James by Dr. Theodore Rosenthal, City Narcotics Coordinator.

It was also learned the report will call upon New York State to establish upstate health camps for the post-hospital care of addicts.

The Office of the Narcotics Coordinator is currently operating on a budget of $300,000—less than one-third the amount it is expected to ask of the Federal government.

Authoritative sources said Khrushchev's proposal for withdrawing the planes came in one of several letters he and Kennedy exchanged—none of which has been made public—since their weekend letters of Oct. 27-28 drafting an agreement to end the crisis.

Mr. Kennedy has insisted that the 750-mile range bombers are in the same offensive weapons category as the Soviet missiles and must also be removed.

PRESS RUSSIANS

U. S. officials have reported that 47 of the missiles were counted on Soviet vessels steaming away from Cuba. That's the number of missiles the Russians say they had on the island.

Officials here look upon the removal of the missiles (unless some are hidden in caves) as fulfillment of the most important of Khrushchev's promises to Mr. Kennedy.

WARN ON BUILDUP

UN Ambassador Acland E. Stevenson politely but firmly told Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov that the issue is of great importance and that the United States looks to the Soviet Union for a response.

In effect Mr. Stevenson rebuffed Soviet attempts to link to the negotiations to Castro's demand for U. S. abandonment of its Guantanamo naval base.

Mr. Macmillan himself warned that "hostile intrigue and espionage are being relentlessly maintained on a large scale" in Britain and that "massive efforts are being made by every possible method to undermine our security."

His statement was prompted by a rumor that Thomas Galbraith, former Civil Lord of the Admiralty and the second-ranking British official there, planned to defect to Russia with William John Vassall.
